New Patrolman Hired by City

George L. Hines, former night dispatcher for the Randall County sheriff's department, Tuesday began duties as a patrolman for the City of Canyon.

Hines, who is married and lives at 104½ 23rd Street, had been dispatcher for the sheriff since April. He has lived in Canyon for more than a year.

At the present time he is working with patrolman Ray Reynolds.

The announcement last week by Secretary of Interior Fred Seaton that the Buffalo Lake National Wildlife Refuge had been created in Randall County is just the paperwork catching up with an executive order issued last year, Bob Darnell, resident supervisor at Buffalo Lake, said Tuesday. Also a state game preserve, the refuge covers 7,677 acres and is administered by the Fish and Wildlife Service.

Eagles Take Wraps Off '59 Cage Team

With only one starter and three lettermen returning from last year's district runner-up squad, Coach Bill West and the Canyon Eagles Tuesday night opened the '59-60 basketball season.

The triple-A Dumas Demons downed the Eagles, 50-43, in the opening clash at Dumas. The Eagles, however, had had only two days of practice.

The Eagles take on Hereford here in Canyon High School's gym Saturday, after tangling Friday with Panhandle at Panhandle.

A and B Tilts Stated

The A and B squads will play the Whitefaces here, with the B game getting underway at 7 p. m. The A tilt will follow.

Admission to the games here is 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students.

Lone returning starter to Coach West's squad is Jerry Richardson, who was chosen second team all-district forward last year.

3 Lettermen Return

Returning lettermen are Jim Killingsworth and Richard Purcell, forwards, and Frank Davis, at the post position.

Last year's squad had a season record of nine wins and 14 losses, and tied with Dalhart for the district runner-up post.

Dimmitt was the district champ, and Coach West said he expects the Bobcats to be the roughest team in the district this year. The Bobcats lost only one starter from last year's quintet.

Davis, Kauffman Assisting

Assisting West with the cage coaching chores are Bill Davis with the B team and James Kauffman with the freshman squad. Two practice teachers, Tony Atherton and Bill Schneider, also are assisting with the teams.

Coach West said he would be able to tell more about the squad after additional workouts and the games this week.

Most of the hoopsters were concentrating on football until last Friday and didn't draw basketball equipment until Monday.

Buff Cagers Open '59 Action on Road

West Texas State's young basketball forces, under new coach Metz LaFollette, will open the season with a three-game road trip against two Missouri Valley Conference foes and a strong independent.

The Buffs, trying to rebound from a disastrous 6-16 record in 1958-59, will tangle with North Texas State at Denton Tuesday. They will fly to University of Houston the following day, and then fly to Wichita Falls Thursday for a tilt with Midwestern. It will be a strenuous schedule, playing three games in three days.

After five weeks of workouts, Coach LaFollette indicates the Buffs are making progress "but

Personal Property Tax Back On Commercial Vehicles in County

Continuing their battle over the county's tax structure, the Randall County Commissioners Court voted Monday to amend their recent action eliminating all vehicles from personal property taxes.

Under Monday's amendment, commercial vehicles would not be exempt from personal property taxes. The commissioners, in a 3-1 decision, amended their action of October 26 to exclude vehicles with commercial license plates from tax exemptions.

The court had earlier voted down an attempt to allow one exemption per family unit.

Beckman Starts Action

Clarence Beckman, precinct 2 commissioner, started the activities when he moved to allow one tax-free vehicle per family unit.

County Judge Roy Joe Stevens downed the motion by voting against it after the commission split in a 2-2 tie. Beckman and Glenn Dowlen, precinct 3 commissioner, voted for the proposal, with B. E. McCormick, precinct 1 commissioner, and C. Y. Johnson, precinct 4 commissioner, voting against it.

"Clarence, you can't collect the taxes. Why fool with it?" McCormick asked.

Diligent Effort Needed

"I think we need to make a diligent effort to get that straightened out in the legislature," Dowlen said. About one-third of personal property taxes levied on vehicles is never collected.

McCormick then proposed that personal property taxes should be put back on commercial vehicles.

Johnson asked Bill Money, county tax assessor-collector, to define commercial vehicle. Money replied that a commercial vehicle would be one with a commercial license plate, which would not include a truck bearing a farm license plate. Farm tags cost about one-half as much as commercial tags, but may be used only by a farmer hauling his own products or supplies.

Singling Out One Segment

Johnson said he could not see "why you would pick out one segment and attempt to collect from them."

"I know that truck deal (not taxing trucks in competition with railroads and other commercial transportation systems) is going to give us trouble from the railroads and rightly so," Dowlen said.

Johnson voted against the second motion, but McCormick, Beckman, and Dowlen supported the motion.

In other action, the commission awarded Ivan Dement of Amarillo a contract for six miles of paving in Precinct 4. Dement's bid was $30,873.08 for five miles on the Amarillo City Lake Road plus one additional mile. Other bidders were Cooper and Woodruff, $31,050.98 and Gilvin and Terrill, $38,164.44.

Not included in Dement's bid was the cost of drainage facilities, Johnson said.

To Meet With Lumpkin

The commissioners agreed to meet with James G. Lumpkin of Lumpkin, Watson, Dunlap, and Smith of Amarillo in an executive session at 11 a. m. Tuesday. Lumpkin is seeking authorization to buy a transcript of the 1956 condemnation suit against Taylor and Sons which has not been settled. His firm represented the county.

He said Joe Witt, official court reporter, told him a transcript would cost "not more than $1,500."

Stevens said that was in line with the customary charges of $1 per page of transcript.

Taylor and Sons was awarded $60,206 by special commissioners for the 1.95 acres and country store taken for right of way for the Amarillo Expressway. They were asking $191,000 and the county offered $55,000.

Judge Roy Joe Stevens, who will hear the case, refused to meet with Lumpkin.

2 Canyon Coeds Vie For Beauty Crown

Two Canyon coeds are among 24 women who have been nominated as the campus "Most Beautiful" at West Texas State College.

Lynda Burkett, sophomore, and Francis Boyd, junior, are vying for the honor.

Candidates for the honor, sponsored annually by Le Mirage, WT yearbook, were announced through petitions, each signed by 25 classmates. Formerly a student body election, the contest will be a judged event this year.

Winner will be revealed December 5, when contestants are presented, along with candidates for "Most Handsome," at the first formal dance of the year. Judging will be held at 3 p. m. December 1, and six couples will be chosen for the presentation.

The formal dance, with an orchestra, will be sponsored by the Inter-Fraternity Council. Le Mirage staff, headed by editor Carol Barnes of Midland, will have charge of the presentation program. Winners and runners-up will be featured in a special section of the 1960 yearbook.

Miss Burkett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Burkett, 2624 Second Avenue, is a sophomore business education major. The graduate of Canyon High School is pledging Delta Zeta, national social sorority.

Miss Boyd, junior English major, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Boyd, 1718 Fifth Avenue. She holds membership in Chi Omega, national social sorority, and the Newman Club, Catholic organization.

WT Gets Math, Science Grant

For the second year, West Texas State College has been granted funds from the National Science Foundation to conduct a summer institute in science and mathematics.

The foundation has granted WT a total of $89,100.

The institute, to open May 31, will be conducted for 12 weeks in combinations of mathematics-physics and biology-chemistry, according to Dr. Hollis L. Cook, head of the mathematics department and director of the institute.

Math, Science Teachers

High school mathematics and science teachers will participate in the institute, and a total of 48 will be awarded fellowships for study. Fellowship winners will be granted stipends of $75 a week, plus $15 a week for dependents. Teachers will also be granted four cents a mile for a single round trip from home to campus.

Work offered during the institute will be similar to that of last year, Dr. Cook said. In his own mathematics field, he said that subject matter will be "concepts of modern mathematics concerned with structure of number systems, set theory, group theory, and Boolean algebra."

Of the 48 teachers chosen for the institute, a maximum of nine will be selected from out of state, Dr. Cook said. Teachers who have previously participated in the institute are eligible for next summer's program, he said.

Army Exhibit Bus Due on Monday

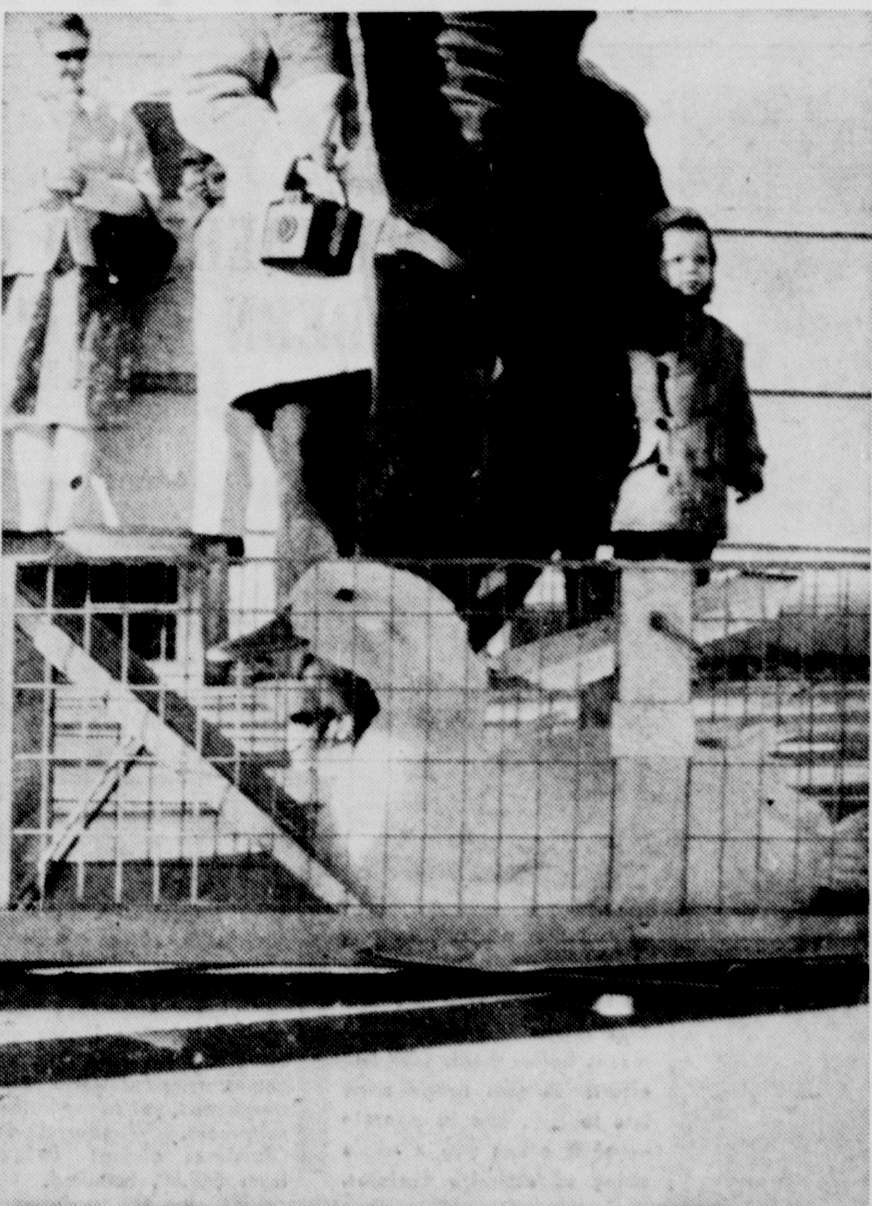

The fourth U. S. Army mobile exhibit, currently touring the five-state Army area, will be on display November 30 and December 1 in front of the Olympic Theatre in downtown Canyon. Sfc. Gerald A. Priest said this week.

Features of the exhibit include three-dimensional displays, in addition to photo murals and show case exhibits. Arrangements are housed in a red, white, and blue air conditioned bus.

Static displays and operating models depict specialized technical and combat activities of the Army. Various sections are devoted to Army career fields for enlisted and officer training.

Pictures of religious and recreational activities also are on exhibition.

Area residents are invited and encouraged to visit the exhibit, which was constructed at Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

Unruffled by all the furor when the dogs and cats got together Saturday morning at the Cub Scouts' pet show was this large white duck, entered by Eddie Prichard. The duck was the only entry in its division, and easily walked off with a blue ribbon.

Manley Named to Play In 2 Post-Season Games

Leon Manley, 210-pound senior guard and a West Texas State tri-captain, has been named to play in two post-season all star football games in Arizona.

He will perform with the Southwest All-Stars against the National All-Stars in the CHS nationally televised Copper Bowl December 26 at Phoenix, and then play with the Major All-Stars against the Minor All-Stars in the Optimist Bowl at Tucson on January 2.

Cub Scouts of Pack No. 31, along with their best buddies, lined the curb of the east parking lot on the courthouse square last Saturday as they waited for the judges to begin looking over the many dog entries in the scouts' pet show. More than 40 pets were entered in the show, which was preceded by a parade around the courthouse square.

Winning Isn't Everything

Two of the principal purposes of football were exemplified during the past three months by Canyon's football teams, The Canyon High School Eagles and the West Texas State College Buffaloes.

Simply stated, these purposes are instilling a will to win while teaching sportsmanship. Both are considered necessary in everyday life as well as on the gridiron.

And if the just-ended football campaigns of the two teams are judged on the basis of the two purposes given, then both enjoyed successful seasons.

It would be difficult to single out an instance when either the Eagles or the Buffaloes did not play to win, although they may have been beaten on the scoreboard. The players conducted themselves as sportsmen.

Two games come to mind as examples.

The first is the Canyon-Phillips game. It was fairly obvious at the end of the first half of play that it would take a herculean effort on the part of the Eagles to win the game. The scoreboard read 28-6 in favor of Phillips.

Yet the Eagles mounted a 71-yard drive at the beginning of the second half to score against the highly-favored Phillips Blackhawks.

Phillips recovered from the touchdown and went on to defeat the Eagles, 41-12. It was the worst loss ever suffered by a team coached by Bill Davis.

The Eagles took the loss in stride and went on to win the right to represent District 1-AA in the bi-district playoff, after tying for the district crown with Tulia.

The other game involves the Buffaloes and Virginia Tech.

Tech came into the homecoming game a two-touchdown favorite, but a fired-up herd of Buffaloes had the Virginia squad beaten until the final 17 seconds of the game.

One of the Buff players was ejected from the game in those final, heated seconds of the game. While many blamed the officials for his ejection, he admitted to Coach Clark Jarnagin that he had fouled an opponent.

It would have been easy for the player to confess innocence, just as it would have been easy for the Buffs to give up and lose by a two-touchdown margin.

Although it helps sometimes, winning isn't everything. That old saw about the Great Scorer marking against your name is as true today as it ever was. He still is more interested in how you played the game. (OG)

Predicting Juvenile Crime

Sheldon and Eleanor Glueck compose a husband and wife team of criminologists at Harvard University who have, for many years, concerned themselves with the enigma of juvenile delinquency in a land of plenty. Both hold professorships, she specializing in research while Prof. Sheldon has applied himself broadly to the pragmatic problems of penology. The two have frequently collaborated during the last quarter of a century on papers dealing with their specialty and, after several years of analyzing juvenile crime, published 10 years ago a joint work entitled "Unraveling Juvenile Delinquency."

They have now penetrated more deeply into the subject with another book entitled "Predicting Delinquency and Crime," published by Harvard University Press. Here some startling disclosures are made as to the profound nature of this problem which each year grows more widespread in this country. They boldly trace the whole progress of juvenile delinquency to the home and set up five key conditions of the home which may be both the cause and the cure of the evil.

The potential delinquent, they assert, can be spotted where the atmosphere of the home is faulty. This does not bear on the economic level of the family but rather on the emotional temperature of the home. The key conditions are these: The affection of the father for the child; the affection of the mother for the child; supervision of the home by the mother; maintenance of discipline by the father and, finally the cohesion of the family unit.

In a four-year test of several hundred children at the age of six, flat predictions were made in a New York City test which proved more than 90 percent accurate. Obviously, one test is not sufficient because its success must depend on the accuracy of the data on which it is based. But, if future trials of this system prove to be as accurate, a whole new field will have been opened for successful treatment of juvenile crime. A new system of attacking the problem before it begins would be made possible by handing social workers an index of those who need supervision and allowing them to concentrate their efforts where they are required.

The findings are worth adopting for further trial. After all, it appears logical to believe that in 90 percent of those homes where the feeling of close family ties is apparent, proper—but not unreasonable—discipline is maintained and a pervading feeling of love and affection is present, tomorrow's criminals will not be bred. (Houston Chronicle)

Grim Prospect

There's always something to worry about.

Someone has pointed out that when the meek do inherit the earth—as has been prophesied—they will find it divided up into subdivisions and plastered with mortgages.

But it can't be helped. Even the Utopian dreamers have to tailor their dreams to fit changing times.

What Our Neighbors Say . . .

Scissor Snippings

Cecil Wesley in the Happy Herald: "I believe the people should know what's going on, and will try to see that they do know at all times." Sounds like a campaign speech, doesn't it? And it is just about what we were told by several candidates who were wanting posts on our own Swisher County Commissioners Court only the past campaign. Apparently the price of a four cent postage stamp is too much to pay to have the people informed. At least we find it hard to believe that men who will be campaigning for re-election either in 1960 or 1962 would try to keep the people from knowing that a tax increase election is coming up, and hope that enough people who would favor such an issue would show up at the polls, and those who opposed it would not know until it was too late. For whatever reason, our Commissioners Court has not seen fit to inform this newspaper that such an issue was upcoming, and on November 21. The call for the election was apparently made on November 9. There must be some reasoning behind such a speedy and as secret as legal, election.

Rumor has it that the proposed tax increase is to provide funds for roads, and will allow the use of existing funds, which have not already been taken, to be diverted to the County Hospital. For all we know, they may want to use it to buy peanuts for homeless baby elephants.

W. H. Graham, Jr., in the State Line Tribune: Cheer up, maize farmers. Things could be worse. Like, you could be growing cranberries yet, with Thanksgiving only a week away and the market shot to smithereens.

The cranberry spectacle is a perfect example of the stupidity of the public at large. All of a sudden everyone in the nation is shocked to think that a few cranberries have a wisp of a strange substance which may (repeat, may) induce cancerous growth in rats, bats, and dogs.

The Agriculture Department itself admits that a man would have to eat cranberries three times a day for 10 years to ever get enough of the chemical residue in his system to approach conditions experimented with on other mammals in the laboratories.

No such person walks the streets, but all of a sudden everybody is incensed with the idea that it COULD happen.

I comment on this idiotic display of logic in the face of repeated, well-documented warning from research laboratories in place after place that report an undeniable link between heavy cigarette smoking and lung cancer. Yet the public goes puffing away, apparently oblivious to the threat to their health brought on by the defiling, senseless habit.

At least three well-respected scientists have warned on the contamination of the upper atmosphere brought about by nuclear bomb testing. "Strontium 90" as the radioactive dust is classified, is capable of causing fearful mutations if the body receives an overdose, and the level of human tolerance may well have already been surpassed in many areas.

Puck said it right: "Ah, what fools these mortals be."

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

Attorney Received Fees for 150 Cases, But Prosecuted Only 3

By BOYCE HOUSE

When the original Casa Manana was held in Fort Worth, a state department, almost en masse, attended one weekend. When they checked up Sunday morning, one of the group was missing. Further checking revealed that he had imbibed freely, had given two officers a tussle and was now in the city jail.

So several of his colleagues, including two ladies, went to the police station to see him and to arrange for his release. When they were taken down the corridor, they peered through the bars into his cell. He was on the bunk, asleep. One of his friends called his name and the man aroused, blinked his eyes, saw the group on the other side of the bars and yelled, "Have they got you in jail? I'll get you out, right away."

A reporter's life in the old days — and I suppose that is still the case — was seldom dull. A few of the events which I reported during my service on the Fort Worth Star-Telegram were the Southern Baptist Convention; the recovery of the bodies of three men, victims of murder, from the Trinity; directing the activities of a six-man staff during two runs of the Fat Stock Show and the murder of two state highway patrolmen by Clyde and Bonnie.

Another little assignment which was handed me was to get the names of all who attended a dinner signaling the opening of the Texas and Pacific Railway Station. How did I try to do it? Posted myself at the door and stopped the guests long enough to jot down the names. There were over 300. I got 'em, too.

Perhaps this is just a legend. The story goes that, many years ago, three men held up a train. Besides seizing the valuables in the express car, the bandits lined up the crew and passengers, some 50 or more, and robbed them, too.

The three were caught and the prosecuting attorney persuaded the grand jury to indict the robbers — not once each but 50 times, making the robbery of each person a separate offense.

When he tried them on one charge, got a conviction, permitted them to plead guilty in the other 49 cases with the terms to run concurrently — and, though conducting only three trials, he collected a fee for 150 cases!

It's just a legend — maybe.

Scouts Recall VFW Fishin' Hole

As winter spreads a chill over the plains of the Panhandle, Canyon's Boy Scouts can look back with fond memories of summer days and fishing and camping activities.

Veterans of Foreign Wars, Lucius Penick Post No. 5681, allowed the scouts fishing and camping privileges at the club grounds.

The club is located less than two miles northwest of Canyon. This makes it a nice hiking distance from town, yet close enough for the boys to be able to enjoy a fishing or camping trip on a weekend or when they only had several hours for such an activity. Many of the boys enjoyed catching a fish that could not have attended a distant camp.

In addition to giving its facilities to camping and fishing for the Boy Scouts, the V.F.W. also had members active in Little League baseball activities in Canyon during the summer.

Mr. Bill Money, County Tax Assessor-Collector, predicts that there will be a lot of frustrated trailer owners next February and March when re-registration of motor vehicles is due.

By the terms of a new law, trailers over 4,000 pounds will have to have certificates of title for the first time. Titles can be obtained now while there is still time to meet certain requirements regarding proof of ownership and serial numbers. February and March will be a very poor time for handling this new requirement.

RAMBLING AROUND

By DOYLE G. THOMAS

ASC Office Manager

Wheat measuring in Randall County will start around December 1 if present plans of the ASC office materialize. It is hoped by starting this early all farms can be measured by the middle of February. There are 910 wheat farms in the county with a total allotment of 134,596.3 acres.

Measuring will be done with a steel tape and the cooperation of each wheat farmer is requested. Although new aerial maps have been received, they will not be used because preliminary work toward bringing them up to date has not been done.

Farmers will be advised of the measured acreage on their farm as soon as measurements for the farm are complete.

Several Randall County farms will be visited by Under Secretary of Agriculture McClain and other officials on December 3. A tour of these officials which will include congressmen, senators, state officials, and others will leave Amarillo in five chartered buses to inspect Conservation Reserve farms in this and Potter County.

The morning tour will be in Randall County and will include approximately eight farms with stops at two of them. The group will eat lunch at Boys Ranch and the tour will continue in Potter County.

Plans are now being worked out and the tour schedule will be announced by the end of the week.

Cotton allotments have been computed for 1960 and will be mailed around December 1. The 1960 cotton referendum will be held on December 15 at the ASC office and at Ralph Switch.

If the referendum carries by two-thirds vote, marketing quotas will be in effect for the 1960 crop and the cotton will be supported at a higher level of parity. If the referendum does not carry there would be no penalty for overplanting the allotment; however, farmers overplanting would not receive any price support.

Further information concerning the referendum will be furnished cotton farmers by mail at a later date.

Showers Honor Karen Parker

Miss Karen Parker was complimented with two showers and a coffee this week. Miss Parker and Vernon Mickey will be married Thanksgiving Day at the Joseph A. Hill Chapel.

Miscellaneous Shower

A miscellaneous shower was given Miss Parker Tuesday evening, November 17, in the home of Mrs. W. J. Wooten, Jr. Greeting the guests were Miss Parker, Mrs. O. W. Parker, Jr., mother of the bride-elect, and Mrs. Wooten. They wore corsages of gold and bronze pom-pom mums.

Laid with a brown net and felt cloth, the tea table was centered with a crystal cornucopia from which an arrangement of gold and bronze mums with fruit flowed. The names, "Karen and Mick," and the date, "Nov. 26" were inscribed on the fruit. At the center of the table near the hem of the cloth, an appliqued horn of plenty with applied fruits decorated with sequins and rhinestones and gold braid accented the floral arrangement.

Alternating at the silver service were Mrs. Clara Long and Mrs. R. N. Cooke.

Little Unemployment Noted On Europe Trip by Kuhlman

(Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Kuhlman, who live east of Canyon on the Palo Duro highway, recently returned from a tour of Europe. Here is Mr. Kuhlman's account of conditions they encountered on the trip. Ed.)

By ALVIN KUHLMAN
On the 28th of July we landed in Bremerhaven, Germany, after a very pleasant crossing on the maiden voyage of the TS Bremen. Our first impression was the tremendous amount of activity, especially in automobile and truck traffic, similar to that found here. In Germany bombing ruins have long disappeared, and rebuilding of housing has about reached its peak. Many large units in Bremen of up to 14 stories are about to be completed. Industrial activity is booming with unemployment almost non-existent. There is a big transition of workers from domestic and farm labor to the higher paid work of industry and business. Farms of northern and western Germany have become highly mechanized with tractors replacing horses because of the lack of farm labor. The quality and modernness of the farm machinery being produced now is very good. All tractors were of the diesel type, from about 15 to 35 horsepower. Agriculture in Western Germany has no surplus problems and with government protection from imports, farmers are doing relatively well. The big exception was a period of exceptionally dry weather this year from July through October, with rainfall of less than one-half inch—a once in 50 year drought that after several months made Northern Europe lose its normal beauty and caused crop failures.

One of the biggest problems of Germany today is the ever multiplying number of automobiles and trucks. The cities and towns and smaller roads are not able to cope with the swarm of cars. Only the Autobahns, built before World War II, and now being extended, make driving a pleasure. They connect the major cities of Germany with four lane expressways without any cross traffic.

Communism is less a problem the closer one gets to the Iron Curtain and where the people are bettering their living standards. Germany and Austria are probably less communistic than the USA, because they have only to remember the war and look across the border and see the comparison.

The rebuilding of the German army is a big problem. Many people there cannot comprehend the complete reversal from a no-arms in 100 years to a full army in 15 years after the war program. Trying to draft some of the veterans of Stalingrad has met with stiff opposition.

In Germany, as well as other countries of Europe, drivers licenses are not given out till 21 years of age, generally, and 18 years as an exception. Movies are all classified as to age minimum of viewers. As to 6-12-16-18 years of age. Most movies require a 16 year minimum, and are strictly enforced. Going out of business, closeout sales, etc., require a control stamp to prevent fraud.

Traveling through Denmark and Sweden we noticed the lack of American tourists. The biggest impression to us there was the exceptionally healthy and well-behaved children.

All children and teenagers take part in sport and recreational programs sponsored by the government and schools. Sweden has a living standard comparable to the USA. Both of these Scandinavian countries have honest, trustworthy people. There we noticed fruit stands with the fruit, the price, and a place to put the money—but no one to tend to it.

We also traveled through Switzerland, northern Italy, Yugoslavia, and Austria. Switzerland is similar to Sweden in their solid type of prosperity. In Italy we were surprised at how exceptionally well dressed the women were.

In Yugoslavia, tourists were very rare, especially Americans. There we underwent a two-hour custom inspection, which required much patience. Everywhere we found general prosperity in Europe, but not in Yugoslavia. Very few cars, no tractors, and little enthusiasm in any of their endeavors.

Conditions and the standard of living appear to be about the same as before World War I. We were quite uncomfortable there and felt as though we were in a gold fish bowl.

The West looked very good to us when we crossed into Austria. One and a half days in Yugoslavia made us happy to be part of the free world.

We especially enjoyed Austria for scenery and good food. Here we found still a few war ruins, because little was rebuilt during the Russian occupation. Austria is a peninsula, surrounded by the communists. Much of the trade that would normally flow through Austria to the East is shut off by the Iron Curtain.

Also tourists from America generally pass it by because it is out of the way. Therefore, Austria is having a harder struggle. This makes Austria a good bet for tourists, dollar wise.

We've heard of the tail wagging the dog, but this is the first holiday season to our knowledge when cranberries have wagged the turkey.

We went to a sauce-less turkey dinner a few nights ago. It was like soup without salt, breakfast without coffee, steak without salad. The plate was a pallid glob of yellow and tan, although a few green beans tried half-heartedly to cheer the consumer into feeling happy over no cranberries.

Now for some folks this may not seem important. In fact, a young minister sitting across the table admitted he didn't care for the stuff. But in our bringing-up, the appearance of the hard, tart berries in the grocery bag was the promise of festive eating and fun. And the bright, sweet-sour jelly tantalized us on the pantry shelf with the sun shining through it. Sliced in matching compotes at either end of the holiday table, it set our salivary glands working long before the gravy was made or the Waldorf salad finished.

Worst of all in this current cranberry crisis, we don't know whom to believe. Two cans of sauce carried over from last year sit on our kitchen shelves. But is it safe to serve? "The canned ones are all right," says one voice. "Avoid them—fresh, frozen, or canned," warns another. "The 1958 crop is also suspect," says a third. "A human being would have to consume 15,000 a day for 15 days to risk any ill effect," comes from someone else.

We're sad for the cranberry growers; they'll probably have to eat mush—and cranberry sauce—this year to make expenses. We're concerned for cranberry merchants, who aren't very busy this season. But we're downright shook up for the cranberry consumer. What's he going to do!

Elementary School Pupils Observe Book Week with Programs, Parade

Book Week was observed throughout the Canyon Elementary School recently with students holding reading programs for parents, dramatizations of stories and book characters, and skits.

Three classes in the second grade — those of Mrs. Geraldine Fite, Mrs. Ora Mae Roberts, and Mrs. Charlotte Slay — presented a "book parade" in the auditorium. Costumes transformed the boys and girls into Humpty Dumpty, Cinderella, Tom Sawyer, Michael the Policeman, Snow White, and other favorite book characters. Andrea Farr, president of the Library Club, acted as mistress of ceremonies.

The third grade classes of Mrs. Earline Moreman, Mrs. Martha Goodman, Miss Sarah Thompson, and Mrs. Jewel Hill presented scenes from "Tough Winter," "Hansel and Gretel," "The Blue-nosed Witch" and "Uncle Billy Coon."

While one of the story-tellers read, the book characters appeared as if by magic. Jim Cowart was master of ceremonies.

Chris Kuykendall introduced the fifth grade program. Living pictures portraying paintings of the masters were presented by the classes of Mrs. Audrey Jones, Mrs. Myra M. Wheelock, Mrs. Bonnie Hinger, and Mrs. Flora Phillips.

Portrayed were "Two Girls at the Piano," Linda Hand and Kay Fisher; "The Torn Hat," David Albers; "The Melon Eaters," Joe Moore and Don Howard; "Le Gourmet," Andrea Farr; "The Jester,"

Aggies Get Revenge With Win Over Buffs

Vengeance seeking New Mexico State handed West Texas State its fifth Border Conference loss of the season Saturday as the Aggies overran the Buffs, 35-13, before 6,500 fans in Las Cruces.

Last year the Buffs, with a 0-9 record, upset the Aggies, 39-32, in the final game of the season at Buffalo Stadium.

The Aggies weren't sharing the upset dreams of the Buffs Saturday as the Farmers spotted the Herd an early touchdown then shut them out until the final 23 seconds of the game.

Logan Rambles 74 Yards

Jerry Logan got the Buffs off to a fast start as he returned the opening kickoff 74 yards — from the WT 7 to the NM 19. From there it took just five plays before fullback Rex Loftis slammed over from the NM 1.

Paul Laydon booted the extra point with only 2:23 of the game gone to put the Buffs in front, 7-0.

However, the Buffs had a 57 minute dry spell. They couldn't push across another tally until very late in the game. And by that time New Mexico State had amassed its 35 points.

Bill Loran Scores

Bill Loran plowed over from the three-yard line with 23 seconds remaining for the final West Texas tally. The Buffs marched 64 yards for the final TD. Jim Dawson's pass for the points-after was no good.

New Mexico State's Purvis Atkins chalked up three touchdowns for the determined Aggies.

Louis Kelley capped a 71-yard drive with a blast from the one for the first Aggie score, and Dan Dillanueva kicked the PAT to make it 7-7 at the end of the first period.

Johnson Hits Sims

The Aggies came back strong in the second period, with the nation's eighth-ranked passer, Charlie Johnson, passing a 20-yard aerial to E. A. Sims for a six pointer. Dillanueva booted the point.

The scoring pass came two plays after Jones Hendrick attempted a

Local Youths in Christmas Play

Three Canyon youngsters are in the cast of the forthcoming Christmas play of Alpha Psi Omega, national dramatics fraternity at West Texas State College.

The play, "The Child and the Star," will be presented December 3-5 in Branding Iron Theatre. It is a musical featuring a deaf boy who wants a hearing aid.

Included in the cast are Mark Olson, son of Mrs. Martha Olson; John Wheeler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wheeler, and WAM Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Moore.

Curtain time Thursday and Friday will be 8:15 p. m., and a special matinee is planned December 5 at 2 p. m. A part of the proceeds from the production will go to a fund for the deaf.

Co-directors are Avert Smith, Amarillo senior who wrote the play, and Marti Hinson, Groom senior.

Participating in the program will be the Madrigal Singers, directed by Royal Brantley, assistant professor of music, and a men's choir, composed of members of Alpha Tau Omega, national social fraternity.

quick kick that went only three yards, to the WT 36.

Late in the second quarter, Jimmy Jones fumbled on the WT 6 and the Aggies recovered. It took Atkins two plays to power over from the three. Dillanueva again added the extra point.

Atkins Sparks Scoring

After a scoreless third quarter, Atkins put the Aggies back in business with two scores in the fourth frame. One came from 10 yards out, while the final TD was scored on a two-yard dive.

Atkins didn't hurt his national ranking during the tussle as he gained 115 net yards rushing. He was the 10th leading ground gainer in the nation before the game.

PUNTS SPELLED DIFFERENCE IN BI-DISTRICT GRID GAME

By OSCAR GRIFFIN

As was pointed out in the story on the Canyon-Oilton bi-district game, I think the Oilton punting was the big difference at Buffalo Stadium last Friday afternoon.

Either Robert Priest is an exceptional punter or Lady Luck was smiling on him. Every time he put his foot to the ball, he put the Eagles in the hole.

The story of Priest's punting began very early in the game when he quick kicked from the Oilton 11 to the Canyon 29. Canyon's field position was reversed with the kick—from very good to very bad.

This happened throughout the game. At the end of the first quarter, Priest kicked to the Canyon 7; in the second quarter a Priest kick sailed from the Oilton 21 to the Canyon 25, with the aid of a 15 yard clipping penalty; in the fourth quarter the big tailback booted to the Canyon 17; and in the waning minutes, one of his punts did not more than six inches from the Canyon goal line.

This type punting, coupled with one of the most deceptive high school single wing attacks I've ever seen, spelled the difference Friday.

And that extra week Oilton had to prepare for the game didn't hurt them a bit either.

All in all, it was a good season from the viewpoint of a fan.

Here's a good indication of the spirit the Eagles showed prior to the Oilton game:

Coach Bill Davis had told the team that if they beat Dimmitt, then practice Monday would be held without pads.

As the team started for the practice field the following Monday, Coach Davis noticed Billy Triplett had donned his shoulder pads. He told the scrappy little guard that he didn't have to wear them because of the Dimmitt victory.

Triplett looked at him and said, "Coach, I came here to play football!"

Fellow down the street says some of these rock 'n roll singers would make poor football players. Says they'd get too many penalties for backfield in motion.

Reynolds Attends Big Horse Sale

Earl Reynolds, who lives east of Canyon, attended the world's largest quarterhorse sale Thursday at the Rawland D. Stanfield Ranch near Tulsa, Okla.

Four new records were set for the price of quarterhorse mares at the show, Reynolds said. Some 104 horses sold for an average of $4,011 per head, with the top sale price being paid for a mare which sold for $20,200.

Reynolds bought a mare at the show, but reported he paid considerably less than $20,200 for his horse.

More than 1,000 buyers attended a buffet supper and barbecue at the Stanfield Ranch, 19 miles from Tulsa.
